

Purchasing: UNSPSC Category Codes

The United Nations Standard Products and Services Code (UNSPSC) is a classification convention that is used to numerically identify products and services. Within Core-CT, category codes are associated with catalog items (default for you) and must be selected when you create a requisition or a purchase order by description only. While the ability to search for a desired category code is provided for in Core-CT, there is an excellent website that can be used to expedite the search process.
